ABOUT THE AUSTRALIAN CALISTHENIC FEDERATION

The Australian Calisthenic Federation Limited (ACF) is the national governing body for Calisthenics in Australia. The ACF is responsible for developing the sport and setting the strategic direction at the National level, with the primary goal to innovate, promote, administer, and coordinate the unique sport of Calisthenics. Through its efforts, the ACF ensures national consistency with rules, coach accreditation, skills and adjudicating programs, and the delivery of a National Competition Event program, through volunteer run standing committees.

OVERVIEW AND PURPOSE OF THE POSITION

The NCEF Lead is responsible for providing strategic leadership and governance oversight of the National Competition & Event Framework (NCEF). The role exists to ensure ACF's national competitions are planned, delivered and continuously evolved within a clear, consistent and sustainable national framework, aligned to the organisation's strategic priorities.

Reporting to the ACF Board, the NCEF Lead chairs the NCEF Steering Committee and provides leadership across the national competition portfolio. The role focuses on framework development, governance, assurance and alignment — enabling Heads of Competitions & Events to deliver individual national events within agreed standards, policies and structures, rather than direct involvement in day-to-day event delivery.

This role is undertaken on a volunteer basis and requires a significant commitment of time, expertise, and passion for advancing calisthenics at a national level. Ideally, the incumbent will be a respected member of the calisthenics community with the insight and sector knowledge required to guide the ongoing development of the National Competition & Event Framework.

The role may require travel and participation in meetings outside of standard business hours.

TERM OF APPOINTMENT

This is a volunteer appointment for a fixed term of two (2) years, aligned to the ACF competition cycle. Appointees may serve up to three (3) consecutive terms. Any additional term beyond this may only be approved by the Board under exceptional circumstances.

To support continuity and succession planning, terms for competition and event roles may be staggered, with some initial appointments made for shorter or longer periods to align future renewal cycles.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

The NCEF Lead is responsible for delivering effective governance and strategic oversight of ACF's national competition program by:

- Implementing the strategic direction of the National Competition & Event Framework (NCEF) in line with the overarching strategic direction set by the ACF Board.
- Establishing and maintaining the governance framework for national competitions, including policies, standards, templates, decision-making and escalation pathways.
- Chairing and leading the NCEF Steering Committee, ensuring effective oversight, coordination and accountability across the national competition portfolio.
- Ensuring alignment and coordination across NCEF-aligned sub-committees and reference groups, including Rules, Grading, Assessing, Eisteddfod and the Stakeholder Reference Group (SRC).
- Providing assurance to the ACF Board regarding the consistency, integrity, risk management and overall quality of national competition delivery.
- Enabling Heads of Competitions & Events to plan and deliver individual cornerstone events within agreed national standards and frameworks, without direct involvement in day-to-day event delivery.
- Supporting continuous improvement of national competition governance through review, feedback and refinement of the NCEF and associated frameworks.

CORE FUNCTIONS

In fulfilling the responsibilities of the role, the NCEF Lead will:

- Lead and participate in regular NCEF Steering Committee meetings, including setting agendas, guiding discussion and ensuring actions and decisions are progressed.
- Maintain active oversight of the National Competition & Event Framework, including scheduled reviews, updates and alignment with broader ACF strategy.
- Work collaboratively with Heads of Competitions & Events to provide guidance, direction and escalation support within the agreed national framework.
- Engage with NCEF-aligned sub-committees and reference groups to support alignment, information flow and coordinated decision-making.
- Provide timely advice, reporting and recommendations to the ACF Board on matters relating to national competition governance, risk and performance.
- Support post-event review and learning processes to inform continuous improvement of national competition delivery.
